240 Letter from Gloucestershire relates the following remarkable and comical Story.—A Mountebank, and his Merry Andrew (who followed him as his Livery Servant) were traverting this County; they fixed their Residence in a certain Borough-Town here, in order to make conspicuous their Skill of Medicine, and to exhibit their usual Merriment, to ficilitate the yeard exhibit their usual Merriment, to facilitate the vendexhibit their usual Merriment, to facilitate the vending of it. At the Inn where they put up, after having been there Two or Three Days, and living elegantly (which undoubtedly gave the Inn-keeper no small Satisfaction) the Mountebank asked him where was the usual Place for a Stage: The Man understood him as Hustings, the Prace for Polling, and after a Pause, said, Sir, do you mean to offer yourfest as a Candidate for this Bosough? If you do, I will give you my Vote, and secure you Eight or Ten more at my Peril; for really, Sir, between you and me, the old Members are not very much liked. The Mountebank being a facetious Fellow, instantly caught this Opportunity, and said it very much liked. The Mountebank being a facetious Fellow, initantly caught this Opportunity, and faid it was his full Intention, and did not doubt the Success of it. The Report was industriously propagated, and reaching the Ears of the Two former Representatives, they sent a formal Card to the Mountebank, desiring the Honour of his Company to Dinner with them, the following Day, which he declined; notwithstanding desired the Honour of their Company to drink Cossewith him at the Inn on that Evening; which Invitation they accepted of, and came: When, after much Circumlocution, they came to Business, and told the Mountebank, that not dreaming in the least of an Opposition, if that in Case he would decline the Poll, they would make him a Present of One Thousand Pounds; which make him a Prefent of One Thousand Pounds; which he refused, saying, "That when he came there, it was the fartheit from his Intentions; but, as he had equally as much Interest in another Borough, for Five Hundred Pounds more he would decline it;" which Proposition they readily consented to; the Money was accordingly paid, and the Mountebank quitted the Town, leaving a Letter with the Inn-keeper, and defiring him not to open it 'til the Day after his Departure, wherein he related the whole Story, declaring he was enly a Mountebank, that he had no fuch Defign, but was forced into the Scheme through the Simplicity of the Inn-keeper, concerning the Stage. This Story occasions much Merriment in the Town, at the Expence, Ridicule, and Diffrace of the Two worthy, credulous

DUBLIN, May 14. Never was there known fo much Dublin, May 14. Never was there known so much Havock and Deitruction in this City, as were made last Tuesday and Wednesday, by the pulling down of Houses, gutting them of the Furniture, breaking open all Locks, Doors, Cellars, Vessels with Malt-Drink, Spirits, Wine, &c. by which many Families have been ruined, as well as some Proprietors of Houses. On this outrageous Occasion many Thieves mingled themselves with the Populace, and itole whatever they could carry away. Their Fury was not confined to Dublin, but even extended to Ringsend, Irishtown, and Donnyeven extended to Ringfend, Irifitown, and Donny-brook, where they levelled Houses to the Ground, de-stroyed or purloined all the Furniture; and had it not been for the Activity of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, and a Party of Soldiers, they would have demolished many more. Thirty-two of these riotous Thieves were taken by his Lordship, tied on Carts, and sent to Newgate under a Guard.

On Wednesday they vented all their Fury on the Bagnio in Arron-Street, broke the Windows, destroyed the Furniture in all the Rooms, which they threw ined the Furniture in all the Rooms, which they threw into the Street, unroofed the House, and in pulling the Timbers down, the Roof suddenly fell in, and killed Five or Six of these Desperadoes, who have since been dug out of the Ruins: And, what is most melancholy, this House belonged to a Widow, who had 251. a-Year Profit-Rent upon it, which was her only Support.

On Application to his Excellency Lord Townshend, on Wednesday, his Lordship was pleased to give Orders to the Regiments of Horse and Foot in the Barracks, to attend the Lord Mayor and Magistrates, which they accordingly did, and patrolled the Streets that Night in different Parties, which entirely suppressed these Rioters; and we have the Pleasure to inform the Public, that there has been no Disturbances in any Part of the Town fince that Time.

Never have been such great Distresses known, as by the late Riots, many unhappy Poor helpless Women being cruelly abused, robbed of their all, under the Censure and Displeasure of their Parents and Friends, not knowing where to get a Morfel to eat, any House to shelter them, or where to rest their distracted Heads. How pitiable is the Case of these deluded Females, most, or all of whom have been seduced, and rendered inca-pable of getting honest Bread by Wretches who have betrayed them, and robbed them of their Fame and Yesterday above Forty Rioters were brought to the Tolfel for public Inspection and Examination, when the unhappy Sufferers discovered several among them who were concerned in plundering and destroying their Property, and made Affidavits against them.

CHARLES-TOWN, (S. Carolina) July 19.

The last Advices from the Creek Country inform us, that all the Men in the Upper Towns, able to bear Arms, were gone, and going out against a Body of the Choctaws and Chickesaws, which formed the largest Army of Indians ever remembered to have been seen in the Southern Diftrict.

July 25. From the particular Attention that has, for some Time past, been paid to putting the Barracks in fome Time past, been paid to putting the Barracks in Order, it has been surmised by some, that they were preparing to receive at least a Regiment of Troops. Whether these Surmises have any Foundation or not, our Advices do not authorise us to say, though they intimate, that the Government at home seems more determined than ever, that the Revenue-Acts, to operate in America, shall be enforced: And we are informed, that Orders have been received by the Commanding Officer of his Majesty's Troops in this Province, immediately to withdraw all the Garrisons from the Outdiately to withdraw all the Garrisons from the Out-Posts; in Consequence of which, his Honour, the Lieu-tenant-Governor, we hear, has actually appointed Ed-ward Wilkinson, Esq; to be Commandant of Fort Prince-George, Keehowee.

August 2. We learn that the 3 Companies of Royal Americans, in this Province, and Georgia, have received Orders to embark for the Northward; and, Saturday last, those in the Barracks here, embarked on board the Schooner Hawke, a Tender to his Majesty's Snip the Fowey, and will fail the first fair Wind for New York

BOST.ON, August 1.

We can collect no Intelligence from the Public Prints respecting American Affairs, but by Letters by the last Vessels from London, we learn, that the Minifiry is at present in a very unsettled State, so that there is no determining how Public Affairs will be conducted, or by whom:—I hat Lord Chatham is yet our Friend and Support:—That our Friends consider the late Act imposing Duties upon Paper, &c. as a Second Stamp-Act, and as another Attempt to gain the Point of Taxation over the Colonies:—That those in Power are unwilling to fee the Right of Parliament to tax America willing to fee the Right of Parliament to tax America relinquished:—That wife, cool, firm Measures, steadily pursued, will obtain us Redreis; and that the Safety of these Colonies, and of the whole Kingdom, depended upon such a Condust:—That Resolution and Perseverance in Measures of Industry, Frugality, and Occonomy, and determining not to import any Goods from Great Britain, would undoubtedly, and inevitably procure for us, all the Relief we need:—Distress among the Merchants and Manuschurers would be the mong the Merchants and Manufacturers would be the certain Confequence of fuch a Conduct; People in general would have their Eyes opened, they would foon feel the fatal Effects of the late Acts of Parliament; and feeling must bring Conviction, and daily create new Friends with its Increase.

Extract of a Letter from London, May 25.

" You may possibly have heard something of the Riots and Combinations among the lower Set of People that have lately broke out, all in Confequence of Mr. Wilkes's Arrival here; Matters now are a little quieter though far from being yet fettled, and it is hard to tell what will be the Islue—The Parliament is far from being his Friend, in to much that though he is chosen one of the Members for Middlesex, and is in Confinement, he has not been once taken Notice of in the House, the Members having industriously avoided mentioning his Name.
